West Asks More Ranges For Rifle Practicing

Congress will be asked at its next ession by the national board for the promotion of rifle practice to authorize an expenditure for the construction of protected rifle ranges in the congested Eastern centers. In a statement issued by the national board it is shown that in the West, where rifle ranges are more readily available, the idea. more readily available, the idea has been taken up more generally than in the East. The enactment of legislation permitting the War Department to loan Krag rifles to recognized rifle clubs has encouraged rifle practice, and it is planned to give the East the advantage of this legislation.

SOUGHT IN BOWERY

"Pals" of Joseph E. Hanel Accompany Police on Rounds of Missions.

NEW YORK, April 25,-Four "pals" of Joseph E. Hanel, wanted for the murder of Mrs. Julia Hellner, accompanied the police today on a search which centered around saloons, missiones, and odging houses along the Bowery. Although no trace of the ex-convict was found, the police asserted they are 'hot on his trail." country tomorrow.

The investigation today showed Hanel had been a frequenter of Bowery missions and lodging houses. At the Bowery branch of the Y. M. C. A. the police obtained a copy of an application he submitted March 7 last. Hansel said he was thirty-five years old, that he was born in Breslau Germany and he was born in Breslau, Germany, and that he had been in the country two years. He gave the names of three former enmployers in other cities and that of a minister in Locust Point, Baltimore, for references.

The Y. M. C. A. wrote to these men and asked them about Hanel's reputation. They received a reply from a man who signed himself Charles Ochs, of Hagerstown, Md., and who asserted that Hanel was not honest, that he had been in prison in Baltimore and that, in his opinion, he was not to be trusted.

Recommendation Refused.

As the result of this characterization the Y. M. C. A. refused to recommend Hanel to prospective employers-a pre caution which was not taken, it is said by the Seaman's Institute, which ob tained employment for him in the home of Mrs. Hellner.

Hanel was known at the Bowery Mission, where he spent much time in January, 1913, and in the Alabama and Plymouth hotels, where he lived for a time, in the East Side.

Two men were arrested on suspicion yesterday in Y onkers and one in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. They were discharged when their identities were established.
